Editorial Policy

HTS Teologiese Studies / Theological Studies is the academic journal of the Reformed Theological College at the Faculty of Theology (under the aegis of the Netherdutch Reformed Church of Africa) and operates with a local editorial and international advisory board. As an academic journal it disseminates the results of the theological research of national and international scholars. It has a wide multi-disciplinary scope and supports theologians, philosophers, scholars, ministers of religion and specialists in religious, social and economically related subjects by providing them with research results.

Purpose and Scope

Since its foundation in 1943 the readers of HTS Teologiese Studies / Theological Studies have been academic theologians, scholars in the field of the humanities and social sciences, professional pastors/ministers of religion and academically oriented readers interested in religious matters. The journal covers theology in its broadest sense and therefore publishes articles linked with a variety of other study fields, has a multi-disciplinary, multi-church, inter-faith, and multi-religious focus and scope. Articles cover, among others, aspects of religious studies, philosophy, ancient Semitic and classical languages, sociology and ethics. HTS Teologiese Studies / Theological Studies is committed to the capacity building of young scholars.

Selection Procedure

Articles are blind peer reviewed by at least two specialists in the relevant field before the editor grants permission for publication. Articles by the editor are peer reviewed by at least three specialists. The international advisors on the editorial board assist the editor with the evaluation of review reports.

Keuring procedure

Bydraes word formeel en inhoudelik deur ten minste twee vakkundiges in die spesifieke veld anoniem gekeur voordat die redakteur toestemming tot publikasie verleen. Artikels geskryf deur die redakteur, word deur ten minste drie vakkundiges gekeur. Die internasionale adviseurs op die redaksie staan die redakteur by met die evaluasie van keurdersverslae.
